To Whom It May Concern:

Google is pleased to inform you that Lorenz Hofmann-Wellenhof has successfully completed Google Summer of Code 2019, a program which connects students with mentors for 3 months to develop open source software. Each year many students apply to participate with only a portion of them being accepted into the program, and not every student finishes the program successfully.

Lorenz was accepted into the program by, and developed open source software for, API Client Tools at Google beginning May 27, 2019 and ending on August 19, 2019. Over that period, they passed each of the three evaluations conducted by their mentor.

More information on Lorenz's project can be found at:
<https://summerofcode.withgoogle.com/projects/5244822191865856>

Lorenz worked from home on their project and was not required to visit either Google or API Client Tools at Google's offices. They received a stipend of 5400 USD for the project. Although Lorenz was not directly employed by Google during Google Summer of Code 2019, the program was administered by Google from our corporate headquarters and Google acted as the host organization for the duration of Lorenz's participation.

You can learn more about the program on our website at g.co/gsoc. Should you require any further information, please do not hesitate to contact our team via email at gsoc-support@google.com.

Best,

Tony Urso
